</introduction/

When building for a digital future, it makes sense to partner with a digital native.

With over 35 years of experience providing digital and virtual learning solutions, Intuition is trusted by the world's largest life sciences organizations to prepare their teams for the future of work.

Today, that future has become the present.

With remote working suddenly the new normal across many territories and traditional training methods no longer possible, we are being called upon by clients worldwide to transform their training programs into digital experiences.

As firms try to keep workers engaged during these challenging times digital Learning and training initiatives take on increased importance.

Intuition has the required solutions, experience and expertise to deliver a fully digital solution to meet the needs of both the business and the learner.

</Customer/Client education/

Connect with users outside of your organization to improve overall satisfaction and product awareness.

It can be a challenge to connect with people within your own organization. Educating partners and clients external to your organization adds to these difficulties.

Intuition's customer education portals allow organizations to scale and improve product and brand training to your external network, online.

These flexible solutions have helped life science organizations to deliver targeted training across desktop, tablet, and mobile.

Through a range of customization options, our portals can integrate seamlessly with current websites, HRIS systems and/or customer service platforms.

The end goal being a platform that drives engagement with your product and brand awareness training initiatives.
